

Milton Keynes
Keihatsu Aikido Club
www.mkkac.com

Who are Milton Keynes Keihatsu Aikido Club – copyblocks for publication use

100 Words

Milton Keynes Aikido Club, the original name of Milton Keynes Keihatsu Aikido Club, has been in operation for over 25 years and runs classes in Stantonbury. Classes are open to juniors, 6 to 14 years and seniors, aged 16+. Students do not need to be fit and even disability may not be a handicap to practice.

The club's Chief Instructor, Marianne Crisp, has been training in Aikido for over twenty-five years and teaching for the past fifteen. Seven other black-belt instructors assist her, all of whom are registered with the British Aikido Board, the governing body for Aikido.

50 Words

Milton Keynes Aikido Club, the original name of Milton Keynes Keihatsu Aikido Club for over 25 years, runs classes in Stantonbury. Classes are open to juniors, 6 to 14 and seniors, aged 16+. Students need not be fit and even disability may not be a handicap to practice.